14 More Killed In Hoosier Traffic

By United Press International

Fourteen persons were killed over the weekend in Hoosier traffic crashes, boosting the toll for the year to at least 900, compared with 830 a year ago. Morgan County racked up three weekend fatalities in two crashes, giving that county 28 fatalities for the year, compared with 19 for all of last year.

Eight of the weekend deaths occurred Sunday, including two in an Orange County collision.

Mrs. Kathy Sneed, 18, Clarksville, and Verli Combs, 19, Jeffersonville, were killed and seven others injured Sunday in a head-on collision at the crest of a hill on U. S. 160 east of Paoli.

Police said a car driven by Wilmer Meredith, 23, Paoli, apparently crossed the center line and collided with the car driven by Combs. Meredith was alone in his car.

Cleve W. Ewell, 44, Nashville, Tenn., was killed in a spectacular one-car crash at I-65 and U. S. 50 just east of Seymour. Police said a car driven by his wife, Verla, went out of control and crashed off a bridge on I-65, landing on its top 21 feet below in the middle of U. S. 50. Mrs. Ewell and their three children were injured, none seriously.

Joann Bailey, 19, R. R. 4, Bloomfield, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision on Indiana 45 in Greene County. Authorities said her car was struck broadside by an auto driven by Warren Ender, 48, R. R. 1, Fairland, as she tried to cross the highway on a county road.

Barbara Miller, 19, Indianapolis, and Mrs. Bonita Oliver, 58, Bloomington, were killed in a head-on collision Sunday on Indiana 67 at Brooklyn in Morgan County. Police said a car driven by Mrs. Oliver's husband was attempting to pass another vehicle when it sideswiped a car and a truck, then collided with the oncoming Miller car.

Jesse Seebree, 30, Indianapolis, was killed Sunday morning when his car was struck from the rear by a truck on Indiana 67 near Huntsville. Police said Seebree's car was stopped on the highway without lights.

Linda Waite, 16, Wabash, was killed Sunday morning when a car in which she was riding went out of control on Indiana 524 near Lagro and overturned.

Gary Chadwick, 17, Indianapolis, was killed Saturday night when his motorcycle was struck by a car on an Indianapolis street. Police said his cycle was stopped without lights.

Carl Hoover Jr., 21, R. R. 2, Auburn, was killed Saturday night when his car went out of control near St. Joe in DeKalb County and hit a tree.

Seek Cause For Airliner Crash

FALLS CITY, Neb. UPI — Federal investigators said today a battered flight recorder may provide some clue as to why a Braniff International jetliner fell flaming from the sky and crashed in a farm field, killing all 42 persons aboard.

At least two witnesses said they heard an explosion before the British-made jet plowed into a sloping field of soybeans about 11 miles from here late Saturday night.

An FBI agent at the scene declined to comment "at this time" on the possibility of sabotage.

Forty-two white stakes driven into the soft earth gave silent witness today to the terror which broke over the southeastern Nebraska farmlands. They marked the positions where the bodies were found.

Investigators from the Civil Aeronautics Board were joined in the field by experts from Braniff, the British Aircraft Co., Rolls Royce, which manufactured the plane's two jet engines, and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

CAB spokesman Ed Slattery said investigators hoped to piece together the mangled jet right in the soybean field and not far from a huge tent which was erected to shelter investigators.

Slattery said one flight recorder was recovered. It monitored the conversation between veteran Capt. Donald G. Pauly and the copilot in the cockpit. Another recorder, which monitored the plane's movements in the air, was still being sought.

Select Nassau For Honeymoon

NASSAU, Bahamas UPI — Their privacy insured by Secret Service agents stationed among thick bushes and palm trees, Luci and Pat Nugent today honeymooned at the secluded oceanfront villa of an American millionaire on this tropical Atlantic resort island.

President Johnson's 19-year old daughter and her husband, 23, flew here secretly Sunday on a regularly scheduled Pan American World Airways "Honeymoon Special" flight from New York's Kennedy Airport. They were one of nine honeymooning couples aboard.

On the flight and at Kennedy Airport, the famous couple went virtually unrecognized. Even the newlywed couple across the aisle in the first-class section failed to immediately identify the Nugents who were with their Secret Service escorts.

"We were sitting right opposite them," said Margaret Buczkowski, whose husband, Lawrence is a Pittsburgh stockbroker. "We didn't speak to them, but we smiled and they smiled back."

"It wasn't until after the plane left that we recognized them," Mrs. Buczkowski said. "What a tremendous thrill to

8 Guardsmen Killed In Wreck

CHUCKEY, Tenn. UPI — Eight Army National Guardsmen were killed and eight more were injured Sunday when a truck in which they were riding apparently lost its brakes, collided with a car and tumbled down a 10-foot embankment.

Authorities said the canvas-topped "six-by" truck threw some of the victims out and pinned others when it flipped over and rested in a ditch after rounding a curve near the Chuckey elementary school on U.S. 11. The highway patrol said the truck's brakes apparently failed.

AUSTIN, Tex. UPI — A teen-aged girl wounded by sniper Charles J. Whitman died early today, becoming the 16th victim of the largest mass murder in American history.

Karen Griffith, 17, died at 12:10 a.m., at Brackenridge Hospital where she had remained in critical condition since last Monday when felled by gunfire from Whitman's University of Texas tower perch.

Miss Griffith was the 14th person to die in the sniper shootings. Whitman earlier had killed his wife and his mother and after his 80-minute siege from the tower was fatally wounded himself.

In all, he shot 46 persons from the tower. Mary Gabour, 41, of Texarkana, Tex., was the only other sniper victim remaining in critical condition today. Miss Griffith, from Austin, was shot once with the bullet penetrating her right lung. Although conscious when admitted to the hospital, doctors said her condition worsened.

Mrs. Gabour was among the first to be shot by Whitman. Her son Mark, and her sister, Mrs. Marguerite Lamport, were killed. Fifteen other persons remained hospitalized today with less serious wounds.

High Drownings

TOKYO UPI — Japanese national police reported today 265 persons have drowned and 48 others are missing from beachfront areas since a heat wave began Aug. 1. Authorities said 92 persons drowned and 24 were reported missing Sunday.

Civil Rights Leaders Plan More Marches

CHICAGO UPI — With civil rights marchers singing "O Lord Stand by Me" and angry whites waving signs reading "protect white womanhood," Chicago's open housing protests moved back into the all-white Belmont-Cragin neighborhood Sunday.

Riot police arrested 20 white persons on disorderly conduct charges.

Civil rights leaders planned to meet today to put the finishing touches on plans for another full week of protest marches into all-white neighborhoods.

The Cage Park community, where Dr. Martin Luther King was felled by a rock Friday evening during a tumultuous foray into the neighborhood was believed to be considered "off limits" by protest leaders for this week.

King, attending a Southern Christian Leadership Conference meeting in Mississippi, was not expected back in Chicago until Friday. The burden of leading marches against hostile whites fell to his chief aides here.

Crowds estimated at 4,000 lined the first few blocks of the tree-mile protest march in Belmont-Cragin Sunday. The marchers were met by screams of "niggers go home" and "white power." Bottles and stones were thrown by the hecklers, but most missed their mark.

Boy On Motor Bike Injured

City police reported that Jerry L. Kiger, 17, city, was painfully injured at 6:25 p.m. Saturday in a motor bike accident. Police said Kiger lost control of the bike at Berry and Crown Streets and was thrown from the vehicle.

Officer John Pursell's report said the boy lost two teeth and suffered fractures of the shoulder and elbow. He was taken to the Putnam County Hospital where he was admitted as a patient. His condition is listed as "fairly good" this morning.

Rising Food Prices To Be An Election Issue

WASHINGTON UPI — The rising price of food, an election-year issue that cuts to the heart of the nation's pocketbook, is causing mounting concern in Congress and in high administration circles.

Milk and bread—basics which every housewife's grocery list—have been steadily increasing in cost over recent months. Come election day and the price of food may overshadow Viet Nam as a potent voter issue.

A House agriculture subcommittee, headed by Rep. Graham Purcell, D-Tex., opens hearings today on why the retail prices of bread, milk, meat and other essentials are climbing.

The Senate Agricultural Committee, headed by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., has directed Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman to make a study and submit a report to Congress. Ellender said during the week-end that if prices continued to rise on bread and other staples he would favor a government-imposed price freeze.

"I would hesitate to do it, but I would rather have prices frozen than to find our country in an inflationary position where we couldn't stop the run-away," he said.

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) already is embarked on an investigation, seeking an answer to the question of why food costs have doubled in some cases when there has been only a "moderate rise" in prices farmers have received.

Republicans have been quick to jump on the food cost issue as a potent election-year factor both in the cities and the farm areas.

No matter where the blame lies, there is no disputing that food — basic items, not the luxury — is taking a bigger bite out of the American family budget.

Private Plane Crash Kills 3

ROBERVAL, Que. UPI — As 20,000 spectators at a swimming meet looked on helplessly, a small private plane spiraled into Lake St. Jean Saturday and sank almost immediately.

The pilot, Jean-Marie Gourd-reault, his 9-year-old son and his 6-year-old daughter died in the crash and three other persons were thrown clear. They were hospitalized. No one on the ground was injured.

A rural frame dwelling and four outbuildings were destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon, east of Greencastle on Ind. 240. The home, property of the C. J. Ferrand estate, was occupied by the Olyn Campbell family.

The fire, believed due to defective wiring, was noticed about 2 p. m. by the family and soon raged out of control. Firemen from Greencastle, Fillmore, Coatesville, Stilesville and Bainbridge, battled the blaze for over three hours.

The local firemen answered the alarm at 2:17 p.m. and did not return to the Fire Department until 5:40 p.m.

The family lost practically everything in the conflagration. As a result, anyone wishing to donate men's work clothing, cooking utensils, dishes or any other articles may leave them at 806 Crown Street.

Two other runs were made by the Greencastle firemen Saturday.

At 10:05 p.m. they were called to 1002 Avenue F. to extinguish a grass fire.

At 9:22 p.m., they made a run on Elm Street, between Locust and Central, when oil from a flare which had been knocked over, caught fire.

7 U.S. Planes Bagged By Cong

SAIGON UPI — A record number of seven U.S. planes were shot down over Communist North Viet Nam Sunday during 107 missions which dealt heavy damage to supply routes leading from Red China and to the Viet Cong in the south, U.S. military spokesmen said today.

The Communists fired at least 24 surface-to-air missiles at the American aircraft north and northwest of Hanoi, where six of the planes went down. There was no indication, for security reasons, whether the SAM rockets or conventional ground-fire downed the planes.

Two of the nine airmen aboard the planes were rescued. Six of the planes lost were from the Air Force — five F105 Thunderchief fighter-bombers

Administration Studies Prices

WASHINGTON UPI — President Johnson may not be able to roll back the recent steel price increases, but he has directed his entire administration to study every course open to government to keep the price pattern from spreading.

This was learned today as government economists and statistical experts, operating on White House orders, analyzed the steel increases. Their purpose was to give the President and his Council of Economic Advisers an accurate cost picture of the steel action.

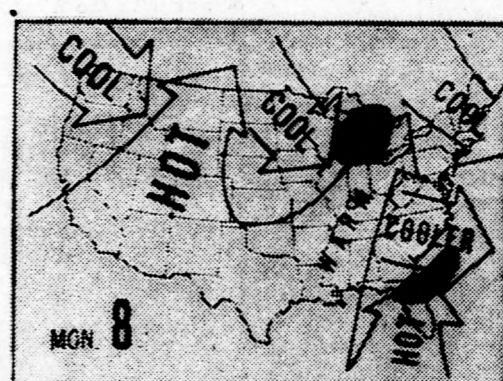

With detailed cost figures in hand, Johnson and his senior advisers were expected to search the rest of the economy, particularly in the government sector, for inflationary trends which might lend themselves to executive action.

The vows were exchanged before an altar banked with white gladioli, palms, and candelabra. David Brattain was the organist and accompanied the church choir under the direction of Mrs. D. S. Hostetter as they sang "Still as the Night", "I Love Thee", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Miss Patricia Coleman of Glen Ellyn, Illinois, was maid of honor. Mrs. Barbara Parker of Peoria, Illinois, Miss Ellen Reimold of Detroit, Michigan, and Miss Lora Jane Myers, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Mark Ludlow of Cook, Minnesota was best man. Groomsmen were Daniel Suchy of Minneapolis, Minnesota, Jerome Franson of Nashville, Tennessee, and David Peterson of Minneapolis, Minnesota. Serving as ushers were James L. Myers II, brother of the bride, and John A. Gau, brother of the groom.

The bride was gowned in ivory Chantilly lace over white organza. A portrait neckline and long lace sleeves ending in bridal points accented the fitted bodice. The full dome-shaped skirt flowed gracefully into a chapel-length train. On her head, she wore a chapel-length mantilla of imported Belgium princess lace. She carried a cascade of stephanotis and amaranth lilies centered with a white orchid.

The bride's mother wore a pale green lace over taffeta sheath with beige accessories and a corsage of amaranth lilies. The groom's mother chose lemon yellow silk sheath with black accessories and wore a corsage of amaranth lilies.

The reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Jane Hughes of Indianapolis, Miss Tana Mauzy of Greencastle, Misses Suzanne and Janice DeBoy, cousins of the bride, from Brookston, Indiana. Miss Lynn Hostetter of Roachdale presided at the guest register.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of DePauw University. The groom graduated from the University of Minnesota in June, 1965.

After August 15, Mr. and Mrs. Gau will be at home at 603 St. Clair Avenue, Sheboygan, Wisconsin, where both are employed by the Sheboygan Public Schools.

In Memory

In loving memory of Mother,
Vada S. Lisby, who passed away
August 8, 1963.

Three years has come and gone
since that sad day,
When one we loved so was called away.

But the love and sweet memory
we hold for you, Mother, will never fade away.
The shock was so sudden, the pain so severe,
Little we knew such grief was near.

The pearly gates opened, a gentle voice said come,
And the farewells unspoken
She gently entered Home.
Only those who have lost
Can tell the pain of parting without farewell.

They say time heals all sorrow,
And helps us to forget,
But time so far has only proved how much we miss you yet.
God gave us strength to face
the grief,
And courage to stand the blow,
But what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.

Mrs. Earnest Lisby, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Tinch and family and Iva Harcourt and family.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my thanks to everyone who was so kind to me during my recent illness while in the hospital and since my return home.

In particular, I wish to thank Dr. Shonkwiler, the nurses and nurse aids in addition to all those from whom I received cards, flowers and visits. They were sincerely appreciated.

"Where is it going to stop," wonders Jim Holland

ON THE Farm Front

WASHINGTON UPI — The biggest surveying project ever attempted is being conducted by the Inter-American Geodetic Survey, which is mapping for the first time the entire continent of South America.

The job, now half-completed involves such activities by the 500 members of the project as climbing 18,000-foot snow peaks, hacking through jungles and paddling a dugout canoe down unexplored rivers with the ever-present possibility of being confronted by malarial mosquitoes, snakes, jaguars and headhunt-ers, says the National Geographic.

Ladies Golf Results

SUTTON, Mass. UPI—Kathy Whitworth, top money winner on the ladies pro golf tour, won't have to worry about the jinx which plagued early leaders in the $15,000 Lady Carling Eastern Open championship.

The 26-year-old Texan waited until the final round Sunday to pull ahead of the pack and finished one stroke ahead of Carol Mann of Baltimore with a five-under-par 217.

Both Miss Whitworth and Miss Mann, second on the LPGA money list, shot two-under-par 70s Sunday. The victory added $2,250 to Miss Whitworth's 1966 winnings which total $20,902. The win was her fifth of the year and the 24th of her professional career. She also led the ladies in earnings last year with $28,685.

Miss Mann received $1,750 for her second-place finish.

There was a four-way tie for third place. Betsy Cullen, Marlene Hagge, Marilyn Smith and Clifford Ann Creed posted 223s and earned $1,087.

LETTER to the EDITOR

On Friday night most of the boys and girls at the Fair sportsed perky Indian hats with feathers. I was very much interested in obtaining one of the hats for my little two-year-old daughter, who is sick, but upon inquiry was told that the hats had been quickly snapped up by eager youngsters and that no more were available.

I decided that one of the children might be willing to sell his hat to me, and I stopped to talk to a friendly-looking boy. When I asked about his hat, he said that I would be welcome to it because he could get another one. I told him that no more hats were available but that I would be glad to give him whatever he thought his hat was worth. He expressed surprise and said that he didn't want any money for it. Upon my insistence, he again repeated that he was glad to give me the hat and that he didn't want to be paid. I was very grateful and did have the presence of mind to ask his name. I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank a fine boy, Randy Carpenter of Fillmore. Mrs. John Robertson

The sixteen boys and fourteen girls chosen for the program represented twelve states. The six-week program consists of a full schedule of advanced math course and includes planned recreational activities. The students complete a minimum of two complete courses in this accelerated type of study. The students are housed in the dormitories and eat in the college cafeteria. They enjoy full use of the facilities on campus along with the regular summer students.

These programs offered by the National Science Foundation are for the development of interest and ability in their field for high ability students. Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Harmless, and lives at 234 Hillsdale in Greencastle.

Saldivar Still Champ

MEXICO CITY UPI — World featherweight champion Vicente Saldivar fighting half blind through the toughest fight of his career survived a near-knockout Sunday night and grimly pounded his way back to a 15-round decision over Japanese challenger Mitsunori Seki.

Saldivar, accustomed to much easier wins in his three earlier title defenses, was confused by Seki's left-handed attack. Seki caught the champ with a series of hard body blows in the fourth round, backed him into the ropes and unleashed a vicious right hook to Saldivar's shin that dropped him to the canvas.

Saldivar struggled to his feet and took a mandatory eight count. But he was groggy for the next two rounds, with Seki swarming over him, staggering him almost at will. "It took me a couple of rounds to recover and that right was coming at me all the time," said Saldivar.

By the fifth round, the champion's left eye was swollen almost shut. His one good eye glaring wildly, he gamely fended off Seki's whirlwind attack with desperate blind jabs, bobbing and ducking away to avoid being caught against the ropes.

The more than 30,000 Mexican fans groaned aloud each time it looked like curtains for Saldivar.

By the sixth round, Saldivar, though his eye was shut for good, shook off his grogginess and began answering Seki's volleys. In the seventh he tore into the challenger and put Seki down.

Seki also rose quickly but his edge was gone. He took a mandatory eight count and Saldivar resumed command.

Because of them, we're open for the greater part of the day. ## Foreign News Commentary

By PATRICK HARDEN

LONDON UPI — With Viet Nam battles earning more coverage in the British press and anti-war protests becoming almost daily events, the British general public is for the first time taking sides in the issue. And the move is against the United States. Latest public opinion polls show the public has hardened against British support of U.S. Viet Nam policy and is opposed to British military intervention there. Conversely the public supports American air raids on North Viet Nam military targets but would not approve attacks on civilian areas.

This apparent conflict in thinking is much in line with Prime Minister Harold Wilson's unusual "so far, no further" support for the United States. His government has firmly backed American intervention in Viet Nam yet disassociated itself from the bombing raids on oil installations near Hanoi and Haiphong.

The government approved raids on Communist concentrations in the demilitarized zone dividing North from South Viet Nam, but said it would not be associated with any American escalation of the war.

Wilson's claim is that, as co-chairman with the Soviet Union of the 1954 Geneva peace conference, Britain is in a special position. Hence his "keep everybody happy" policy.

There is little doubt the public has been made more aware of the war by Wilson's frequent comments and his continuing efforts to find a peaceful solution. Six months ago an opinion poll asked whether the government should support the U.S. in Viet Nam. The results showed opinion split three ways but with the balance barely in American favor — 36 per cent for support, 33 per cent against and 31 per cent undecided.

Late last month the "undecideds" dropped to 12 per cent while those against British support rose to 45 per cent, swinging the balance away from the United States by two points.

Whatever doubts the British people have on general support for the United States, the majority — 58 per cent — approved bombing raids on North Viet Nam military targets. But a much larger majority — 87 per cent—would oppose attacks on civilian targets.

WALL STREET CHATTER

NEW YORK UPI — Edward A. Viner & Co. Inc. says the market's inability to remain above its mid-May lows has disheartened many who had been expecting or hoping for a summer rally but the fact that the breakthrough did not lead to a selling deluge is encouraging in that it indicates a lack of demand rather than increased supply as the primary cause of the weakness.

Tessel Paturick & Ostrau Inc. says traders are urged to eliminate weak positions for a possible buying opportunity some time this month. The firm says purchases of leading performers are suggested during extreme dips or after a period of demonstrated stability.

Bache & Co. says that extreme caution must continue to be the keynote, it would continue to be alert to longer term situations.

Play 'Discovered'
Twenty Years Ago

By Alfred Sheinwold

"There is no such thing as a new play," Sonny Moysse remarked to me twenty years ago, "but I've never read anything about a play I made last night." Moysse has been the editor of the Bridge World Magazine for all these years, but his play is still unknown except to a handful of experts.

When West opened the five of hearts, Moysse could see that South held all of the higher hearts—the A-10 7 6. Which card should Moysse play from the East hand at the first trick?

The "book" play is the jack of hearts. South refuses the trick. If East continues with the king of hearts, South holds off again. East next leads a low heart, and South wins with the ten.

When South leads the diamonds West can win the first diamond but cannot return a heart. South wins any return and knocks out the ace of diamonds. South gets back with the ace of hearts to take the rest.

If East wins the first diamond he can set up the hearts but can never get back to cash them. South loses only two diamonds and two hearts either way.

LOOKS AHEAD

Moysse looked ahead to see all this and therefore played the eight of hearts at the first trick. South had to win with the ten.

When South led a diamond West stepped up with the king of diamonds to lead his other heart. This set up the rest of East's suit. When East got in with the ace of diamonds he cashed the rest of the hearts to defeat the contract.

South has two sure heart tricks no matter how East defends. East must prevent South from refusing the first trick so that West will be able to lead another heart when he wins the first diamond.

Foreign News Commentary

By K. C. THALER

PRAGUE UPI — The shadow of the Viet Nam war looms large of the policies of East European regimes.

Resentment of American action mingles with fear of eventual involvement if the war should escalate into a major conflagration.

Above all, the Viet Nam war is considered the chief factor preventing a much hoped-for thaw in East-West relations.

The authoritative view here is that the new freeze will continue to block any possible advance towards a profitable resumption of the interrupted East-West dialogue so long as the Viet Nam conflict continues.

The desire for an improvement of relations with the West remains strong and is openly stated on government levels.

East European countries want more trade with the West. They want Western goods, seek Western know-how and cooperation. In this they are prompted by the current efforts to develop their own industries, to broaden the basis of their trade relations beyond the eastern sphere of Russia.

The liberalization trend in East Europe has also brought progressive emancipation from one-time firm Russian tutelage, and there is talk now of "a broader Europe" that is not divided by an "Iron Curtain."

Authoritative quarters here say they are confident that they are confident that the threat of war in Europe has faded. Even the divided city of Berlin, not long ago Europe's political powder keg, is no more considered a threat to peace on the continent.

Czechoslovakia for example is doing big trade with West Germany with which it does not even have diplomatic relations. The signs are the Czechs want to expand this trade still further, with Germany as well as Western nations.

The Czechs say they also want more and closer cultural ties with the West, but that the Viet Nam war is seriously dampening this.
